Spotlight on PBIS Coaches! Meet Amanda Haynes

Name: Amanda Haynes

Position: Teacher, Teacher leader at Blytheville High School

PBIS Role: PBIS Coach

Amanda's favorite thing about PBIS:

Being able to view the changes in my colleagues' classrooms, and them being excited about the shift, when PBIS is implemented with fidelity.

Amanda's PBIS Tips for Coaches:

- Always have student voice when implementing PBIS. Students know what they want to see better than we do.
- Ask staff members who are invested in the success of PBIS, are big picture and detail oriented thinkers, and those that will help you carry out the work to be on your PBIS team.

♥ February Coaches' Corner:

- Re-teach behavioral matrix to staff and students
- Tweak recognitions, acknowledgements to keep PBIS exciting!
- Update TFI Action Plans during monthly meeting

♥ Data Reminder:

- Dig deep into first semester behavior data for decision making
- SHARE data and celebrate successes at faculty meeting
- Write Precise Statements for Problem-Solving

Do you have a PBIS money tree?

If you do...please share your ideas! If not, join our monthly Office Hours on 2/15/18 via Zoom to hear some great fundraising ideas!
